

TEX RICKARD ADMITS VIOLATION OF FILM LAW

District Governor Of Rotary International Here

Anniversary Shoot Friday Arouses Much Interest

Says He Went Out To Get His Money Back

WASHINGTON, March 20.—Tex Rickard, New York fight promoter, told the Senate Daugherty committee that he "went out to get his money back" on Dempsey-Carpenter fight films by showing them wherever possible, though he knew he was violating the law. Rickard made this decision, he said after he had been fined $1000 for showing the pictures in New York to disabled soldiers. He told the committee that Jap Muma promised to get a law passed in Washington making it legal to show fight films anywhere, but that Muma never said he had influence in the capitol which would make it safe to exhibit the films in defiance of law. He said that after they "got by" so easily in New York he concluded that he could do the same elsewhere.

WASHINGTON, March 20.—Tex Rickard, fight promoter, today faces the "toughest proposition" of his picturesque career—a Senate investigating committee.

"Tex" has faced the muzzle of a bad man's gun many times in the wild and woolly days of the West and rip-roaring nights in the Klondike without flinching, but he admitted today that he felt "a little funny about this thing."

If Senator Wheeler, Montana, chief "prosecutor" of Attorney General Daugherty, has recovered sufficiently from a cold which laid him up yesterday, Rickard will take the stand to tell what he knows about illegal showings of the Dempsey-Carpenter fight films.

Sinclair's Help To Republicans Next Considered

By PAUL R. MALLON
(U. S. Press Staff Correspondent)
WASHINGTON, March 20.—A story that Sinclair Oil money paid off part of a $5,000,000 deficit of the Republican party, resulting from the 1920 campaign, will be sifted by the Senate oil committee as it continues its investigation of the alleged mixing of oil and politics.

Will H. Hays, former head of the Republican National Committee, and now " czar " of the movies, will face the committee Saturday to tell whether he got 75,000 shares of oil stock, or any liberty bond, from Sinclair, to help wipe out the 1920 party deficit. Hays was subpoenaed after the story was told to the committee in private.

C. D. Wahlberg, a former Sinclair employee, one of those whose testimony first set off the secrets of the oil scandal, was to go on the stand today to tell what he knows about this new " sensation."

Wahlberg in his previous testimony mentioned turning over some stocks or bonds to a "Mr. Hays," who was not then identified.

Comm. head investigators at the time thought Wahlberg referred to an employee in Sinclair's New York office, where Wahlberg was private secretary. Subsequent developments, however, have led to the opinion that Wahlberg might have referred to Will Hays.

"SOUL SAVING SHEBA" DEFIES LAW.

Miss Rhea Crawford, Atlanta, Ga., girl who was known in New York as the "Soul Saving Sheba" when, as a captain in the Salvation Army she attracted such throngs in the Gay White Way by her preaching that she was arrested, left the Salvation Army because of the attending publicity, but she seems to be meeting with the same difficulties in Florida she met in the North, for she already has clashed with the St. Petersburg, Fla., Fire Commission and Ministerial Association having twice defied them when they tried to prevent her holding a revival there in an open tent.

Delivers Address Before Mexia Club On Practical Points To Be Remembered

Lester W. Dawley, of Paris, District Governor of Rotary International, was the chief speaker at the Rotary Club at noon today. He gave the large gathering of enthusiastic members, guests and visitors from other clubs, a practical address on the fundamental principles of Rotary International. Addressing the baby club of the district, he pointed out that Mexia Rotarians were face to face with opportunity, the like of which only live clubs in places of this size confront. His suggestions as to the proper programs for a club of the age of the one here, too, were appreciated and will no doubt be followed religiously by committees in charge of future programs, as those who listened were impressed with their practicability and propriety here, where leaders have been somewhat at sea as to just the sort of programs they should conduct. He stressed the importance of a systematic study of the six objects of Rotary, classification and service talks and open and friendly discussions pertaining to matters involving community welfare and progress.

He opened with the statement that his voice was hardly as strong as Mr. Boone's—the latter having just participated in a number of quartet selections—but that he would use it to the best of his ability in bringing the message which he had for Mexia Rotarians. He said that there are now 80 clubs in the district and that the average number in a district was 39. The first duty of Rotary is to sell itself to the membership, just as an article has first to be sold to a merchant before he can offer it for resale. It, therefore, behooves Rotarians to get acquainted with their constitution and to familiarize themselves with its objects, purposes and proposed services. This led the speaker to a brief review of some of the "Don'ts" and "Weaknesses" demanding attention. It was the opinion of Governor Dawley that the club offered a splendid opportunity for the membership to cultivate a wider and closer friendship with others. He urged that to make the most of this, members should rotate from one part of the table to another at the respective meetings and not sit by the same fellows week after week. Also, he pointed out that a mark of courtesy and respect should be shown all visitors by not becoming immersed in one's own affairs, concerning which the visitor seated next to those enjoying the conversation knew nothing. Don't forget the angle of others in the informal conversation and pleasures prior to the arranged program. He cited that he had been to clubs where this rule was not individually adhered to, making him ill at ease, uncomfortable and lessened the value of the hour to him, an experience he was sure which was common to everyone present, at some place or another, as they had been guests at other clubs. Don't form cliques while in your meetings, he urged, while all Rotarians looked toward the end of the tables where what is known as "The Routh Element" is seated each week. He urged that matters of community welfare should be considered and discussed at meetings, sentiment moulded for the adoption of the better viewpoint, but that many such matters should not be carried to their conclusion, where a Chamber of Commerce should function. He stressed the importance of each member being an active member of the Chamber of Commerce. Don't make a Chamber of Commerce out of the Rotary Club was his injunction at this point. Don't bring politics into the club, he urged. Read the constitution of the club and you will see that politics are banned, which may be followed even while considering matters of civic good and welfare. In pointing out weaknesses which he had observed in some clubs, he said that the rules as to classification were not adhered to rigidly enough; that there are three sixty per cent rules in Rotary and classification involves one of them. He said that the rule should not be so bent as to take a man into the organization who could not represent, in true Rotary spirit, the classification under which received and listed. Governor Dawley next pointed out that many clubs are paralyzed with poor officers, men who have been elected to responsibility because they were good men and typical of a class whom the members love to honor. Officers, he said, should be elected because of their experience and training which fitted them for the highest type of Rotary service, thus enabling the club to be a service institution in the community. Officers should not be chosen merely on their attendance records, however, all Rotarians should maintain the price of Rotary Membership which is attendance. Many faithful attendants upon Rotary meetings are not acquainted with its principles and objects. They were termed Eating Rotarians to whom true Rotary had not been sold, and, therefore, who could not sell it to the community or to the membership. The third weakness he mentioned was that of laxity in attendance. He urged that a man, however honorable and good, if he was unable to pay the price of attendance demanded, he should not be taken into the club. In the end, such members would be dead weight and crowd out someone who could attend and make a better Rotarian. He urged that attendance records be kept and that the directors should drop members who fall below the dead line in attendance. The fourth and last weakness he called attention to was that of tendency in some parts to lower the qualifications of membership. This, he said, would ultimately prove disastrous by lowering the ideals of the membership and by creating a bad impression upon the community to be served by the club. The man on the outside will gain and retain that impression of Rotary which the members win for it. He stated that there were other organizations with ideals just as high as Rotary, but none higher and that there were good men in other clubs and outside of Rotary, and commended them for the work they proposed in whatever organizations they were allied with. This latter, he pointed out, was due to the rigid regard for classification, which permitted only one man in each line of business to be a member of the club in the city represented.

The speaker closed with an urgent appeal for as many Mexia Rotarians as possible to attend the district meeting soon to be held in Wichita Falls, remarking "I will meet you at the District Convention," as he concluded. The meeting was led by Rotarian J. G. (Mc) McIntosh, who introduced President Albert Berry, to introduce the speaker.

The first part of the program was given over to announcements by Secretary Ben Stollenwerk and music. The meeting opened with "What's the Matter with Rotary, She's All Right," followed by "America," in which all joined heartily. The Rotary quartet composed of Messrs. Jeffers, Bell, Boone and Sanford, presented two numbers which were greeted by generous applause. Hardy Eubanks also made a statement regarding the Mexia Club.

ing the Mexia Baseball Club, stating the progress that was being made and referring to the splendid schedule. His remarks, too, were applauded. Following adjournment, the Board of Directors met at the Farmers State Bank, where the business of the local organization was discussed with Governor Dawley.

Public Invited To Affair, At Traps Near The City

Coolidge Favors Speeding Up Of Congress at Once

By A. L. BRADFORD
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
WASHINGTON, March 20.—President Coolidge today took steps to speed up Congress and get it out of the way before the political convulsions in June.

With his administration in the "home stretch," the President wishes Congress would do as Senator Borah suggested—stop being a grand jury and get down to legislating. To this end Mr. Coolidge has planned conferences at the White House with House and Senate leaders to map out a definite legislative program and a time for adjournment.

The first of these conferences will include House members.

Invitations to the conference at the White House are going out to members of the steering committee of the House. The conference to map out the remainder of the legislative program, may be held at a White House dinner.

By April 15, or 20, Mr. Coolidge believes the House will have passed all the appropriation bills and the immigration bill. Then will remain only agriculture and possibly railroad legislation, but it is regarded as doubtful whether the latter question will be acted on.

After its program has been disposed of, members of the House probably will become restive and desirous of returning home for their campaigns, President Coolidge believes.

A series of three-day recesses for the House will be suggested, while the Senate, which has passed practically no legislation, will be urged to get down to business.

CORSICANA, Texas, March 19.—David Harper, six-year-old son of G. W. Harper, prominent merchant of Rice, will be buried at Chatfield today. The boy was killed when his father's delivery car crashed into an interurban at a crossing here. Harper was seriously injured and is being treated at a local hospital. Graves Crawford, 2, also in the crash, suffered a fractured skull and may die.

FLAT RATE FOR GAS DOES NOT BEAR EVENLY

Gas companies generally are reframing their rates so that the cost of the service shall be distributed equitably among the customers. Merely making a charge of so much a thousand cubic feet for gas does not do this. This is because there is a certain cost attached to being ready to serve that accrues without regard to whether the customer uses any gas at all. Items in this cost are the investment in plant facilities and meters for such customers' use; in bookkeeping and billing.

The result of the company losing money on some customers is of course, that other customers make up the losses. For the gas company is entitled to earn a reasonable return on the value of property kept in good condition and can not continue in business unless it does so. It is important to have good equipment.

Some large distributors of gas make their rates to include the elements of demand, which is a factor in determining the size of the plant and consequently the amount of the investment; the service, which includes the items mentioned; and the gas itself which, after all, is only a part of the cost of supplying this service.

Other companies have used but two items in framing rates—the cost of being ready to serve, and the cost of the gas.

Regulating bodies generally have approved a rate that considers these separate items. It is fair to all users of gas and places each customer on a basis of equality with the others.

MEXIA WANTS A CHARTER

Mexia citizens have again spoken through the polls. They have said that they want a charter for this municipality to operate under, lifting it from the village form of government, which has worked to the injury and injustice of the community during the period of unusual growth, following the discovery of oil.

Coincident with the discovery of petroleum, had Mexia adopted a right sort of charter, it would have rendered a real service, solving many problems, lifting heavy burdens from the shoulders of loyal public servants, who performed the duties of City Commissioners, devoting hours of the precious time daily to the interests of Mexia, regardless of the loss to which they were personally subjected and often finding themselves helpless on account of the limited form of government operative here.

It is not too late to correct the defect. Only 122 votes were cast Tuesday in opposition to the contemplated change, 595 voted for a change. The latter did not all vote for the fifteen names printed on the ballot, but did vote for fifteen citizens to frame the charter. The citizens whose names were printed on the ballots, however, were duly authorized to act as the commission, to hold open conferences with citizens interested in a charter, to study charters used by other progressive places of the population of Mexia, to discuss and defend in the newspaper, in mass meetings and otherwise, the document which they finally indorse.

Not all of the 595 who favored the writing of a charter are united as to their beliefs as to the kind of a charter which Mexia should have. In fact, you could not gather that many people together on any subject, involving so many matters as does a city charter, who would all be agreed on every item. Common sense, truth, reason and love for the home community should find a place in the consideration of the charter and likewise should prevail when presented for acceptance or rejection at the polls at a later date.

In the discussions naturally to be expected, these principles as well as principles of fairness and friendship should dominate every line written and every word uttered. There should be no mud-slinging, no insinuations as to the honesty and integrity of the ones imposed with the burdensome task, but high privilege of drafting an instrument, as important to the life and progress of Mexia, as any similar document ever before adopted by any other municipality.

Mexia is too small; we have to rub shoulders together too often; our interests are too closely identified for any of us to lose any friends over the subject. Let's be frank about what we think is for the best interests of the majority, but let's retain our friends and not say something which we will later regret, which we cannot back up with facts in any court in the world, as well as in the court of public opinion. The purpose of all government is to harmonize law-loving and law-respecting citizens, protecting them from the chaos of anarchy and division which point unerringly to decay, degradation and destruction.

United Press Man Praises News And Feature and Force

A. E. Sander, traveling representative of the United Press Association, of which the News is a member, spent Wednesday in this city. While here, he expressed admiration because of the smoothly working and efficient force of The News mechanical department and also complimented in high terms the advertising make-up and entire content of the paper published. It was his opinion that the News would do credit to a city double the population of Mexia and mentioned several features which it carries as the very best that he has seen in any paper anywhere. The features which he especially mentioned were "Slyboot" column, "Citizenship Thought for the Day," "Sportlights" and "Patterson's Column." He stated that he reads those wherever he finds "The Mexia Daily News."

He expressed much surprise at finding The News Publishing Company a plant capable of handling the business of a town of 50,000 population.

DALLAS.—A twelve-year old boy wanted by George Preston, county juvenile officer, for a number of petty thefts, led the officer up a tree in a wild chase here. He was finally captured when he dropped from a limb into the Trinity river. Preston towed into the water with a boat and fished the boy out.

A MYSTERY OIL WELL

(By Ben B. Hunt)

When farmers in a neighborhood Give leases on their land In order for a thorough test In searching for a sand, They have a perfect right to know Just what a well contains— For they have fortunes, too, at stake, Entailing loss or gains.

They have an interest in a well Their leases help'd procure; The law implies a covenant This interest to assure. No lessee has a right to say: "Vamoose. Git out! Bow wow!" "For you have signed the dotted line And we don't need you now!"

This "mystery" stuff they seek to pull —What right have they to do it? If there is any trace of oil You have a right to view it. A "mystery" well is often dry Without a chance to gush, And most reports about its hopes Are seldom more than "slush."

I like to see a thorough sport, When I go on a lark— Not one who tries to stack his cards And keep me in the dark. And when a city wants to see A well come gushing in, A thorough sport should let them know What chance they have to win.

CITIZENSHIP Thought for the Day

By A. Garland Adair

INVETERATE ANTIPATHIES AND ATTACHMENTS ARE MENACES TO THE NATION

George Washington, the Father of his Country, not generally termed a Prophet, was none the less one, in his philosophies of government. The times are such that the following words by him are such as to command themselves to all peoples of all the earth:

"Nothing is more essential than that permanent, inveterate antipathies against particular nations and passionate attachments for others should be excluded, and that, in place of them, just and amicable feelings toward all should be cultivated. The notion which indulges toward another a habitual hatred or a habitual fondness is in some degree a slave. It is a slave to its animosity or to its affection, either of which is sufficient to lead it astray from its duty and its interest. Antipathy in one nation against another disposes each more readily to offer insult and injury, to lay hold of slight causes of umbrage, and to be haughty and intractable when accidental or trifling occasions of dispute occur. Hence, frequent collisions; obstinate, envenomed and bloody contests. Against the insidious wiles of foreign influence (I conjure you to believe me, fellow citizens,) the jealousy of a free people ought to be constantly awake, since history and experience prove that foreign influence is one of the most baneful foes of republican government. But jealousy, to be useful, must be impartial."

And many a woman's greatness is due to the smallness of her husband.

FORT WORTH.—The annual convention of the Texas Independent Telephone Association in session here this week is devoting the major part of its time to service problems and the development of plans for better service.

HOW DOCTORS TREAT COLDS AND THE FLU

First Step in Treatment Is the Purified and Refined Calomel Tablets That Are Nauseless, Safe and Sure.

Doctors have found by experience that no medicine for colds, coughs, sore throat, and influenza can be depended upon for full effectiveness until the liver is made thoroughly active. That is why the first step in the treatment is the nausealess calomel tablets called Calotabs, which are free from the sickening and weakening effects of the old style calomel. Doctors also point out the fact that an active liver may go a long way towards preventing influenza and colds and is one of the most important factors in enabling the patient to successfully withstand an attack and ward off pneumonia.

One or two Calotabs at bed time, with a swallow of water—that's all. No salts, no nausea nor the slightest interference with your eating, pleasure or work. Next morning your cold has vanished, your liver is active, your system is purified, and you are feeling fine, with a hearty appetite for breakfast. Genuine Calotabs are sold only in original sealed packages, price thirty-five cents for the large, family package; ten cents for the small, vest-pocket size. —(Adv.)

Texas Has Lots Sculptors Clay

SAN SABA, Texas, March 20.—Texas may soon supply the clay for some of the most noted sculptors of the world. Prospectors digging near here recently struck a vein of clay at a depth of 20 feet. The mud was sent to the College of Industrial Arts at Denton and after a test was found to be without a trace of grit and to mold and fire excellently.

A request has been received from the New York studio of Lempeo Coppini for samples of the clay to test for his work.

W. H. Wood, of Waco, was a Mexia visitor Monday.

Going To Keep Hold on Prisoners

ORANGE, Texas, March 20.—Orange county is to have one of the most modern jail buildings in the south. The structure, three stories high and break-proof thruout, is now in course of construction and should be finished by June 1.

The building will be steamheated and the cells will be constructed of saw-proof steel. A large basement will be the home of Jailer Carey Woods and his family. Eighty prisoners will be the capacity of the new jail.

Seventy-five cents is the price of a Saturday haircut in Oil City, Pa., under a new scale adopted by the union.

Our idea of a wise man is one who never argues with a woman.

Repsinated Calomel Is Better than the Old-Time Sickening Kind

It is gentle, imported English Calomel, combined with Pepsin and other helpful ingredients. It is mild but certain, causing no harshness or unpleasantness and will absolutely relieve indigestion, biliousness, bad colds, constipation and sick headaches. And best of all it does it at once—quickly and pleasantly. Take one small tablet at bed-time and you will get up hungry and feeling fine. Recommended by

Dr. Maxwell Has Most Interesting Visit to Clinics

Dr. G. C. Maxwell upon his return from Rochester, Minnesota, and Chicago, relates some very interesting experiences while in the famous Mayo Clinic at Rochester and also in the Cook County Hospital at Chicago. He studied for the past five weeks in the institutions there and witnessed many operations in the institutions. At the Mayo Clinic he states that there were twelve operating rooms. Visiting physicians and surgeons are permitted to gather in a large auditorium, used also for lectures, to which visitors are admitted free, in which a large electrical board indicates where certain operations are in progress. To these the doctors may repair and watch the work of the experts. The patients are not disturbed at all, he says, as they are not aware that any eyes are upon them except those doing the work, as the visitors are seated where they will not interfere whatever and at the same time gain the valuable instruction to be derived from watching operations, which include every kind known to surgery. He also states the interesting fact that most operations are to remove goiters, as a large per cent of the people of Minnesota are said to be troubled with this menace to their health. It is occasioned, scientists have recently determined on account of lack of sufficient proportion of iodine in the water. One young lady from a class in the University of Minnesota stated that in her class, a few years ago, an examination of her classmates indicated that 90 per cent of them were infected with goiter. Following the discovery by scientists, the water is being treated and improvement in the past two years has been most pronounced. Dr. Maxwell states that the trouble, from lack of iodine in water, is not so noticeable in the South, and since the right proportion prevails in most instances, Southerners are not troubled with goiter like the people North of the Mason and Dixon line. The Cook County hospital, he states, has 3500 beds, and about 2,000 of them were occupied while he was there. His visit there was equally as helpful as that which carried him to Rochester. Dr. Maxwell was accompanied by his wife and they had a most enjoyable visit, combining business with pleasure as they did. DALLAS.—The first installment of new street cars for this city has arrived and the cars are in service. Thirty of the most modern cars will be added to the service during the next few days.

CHICAGO, March 19.—Pleas of not guilty to indictments charging bribery were entered in the federal court by Colonel Charles Forbes, former head of the Veterans Bureau, and John W. Got His Money After 4 Years

PORT ARTHUR, Texas, March 20
at Marseilles, forgetting to take his trunk and $50 wages due him. He applied thru the American consul at the port for return of his effects and they arrived last week in Port Arthur.

In recovering his belongings, the sailor corresponded with nearly every department of the government and the matter was finally straightened out between the American consul and the customs collector at Port Arthur.

LONDON, Mar. 19.—Four officers and forty men have gone down in a Japanese submarine which collided with a warship off the port of Sase-bo on the west coast of the Island of Kiushiu, 30 miles north of Nagasaki, according to a dispatch here today. The submarine sunk in 26 fathoms of water. Rescue workers are doing their utmost to reach the under sea craft in hope the crew may still be alive.

Many Completed Wells Expected Near Big Lake

BIG LAKE, Texas, March 20.—With many of the wells in this section now drilling below the 2000 foot depth, numerous completions are looked for within the next thirty days. The pay sand in this field is found at approximately 3050 feet.

The drilling race between the Rotary and Cable tools in this section is now on in earnest, with the No. 10 well of the Big Lake Company down below the 100 foot depth. This well is being put down by the Wade Drilling Company of Corsicana, with a large sized rotary rig and should it be successful several more heavy rigs of this type will be moved in.

Work on a number of the cable tool wells has been seriously hampered due to the necessity of shipping tools to Ranger and Eastland for all repairs. This will, however, be overcome it is expected within the next few weeks, as two well known machine shops are making preparations to locate here.

The city will soon be provided with an electric light and water plant, arrangements having been made by the City Council and Frank Pickrell, Vice President and General Manager of the Texon Oil and Land Company, who will provide these utilities. Survey of the city is now being made by an engineering firm and work of installation will be started within thirty days.

The streets in this city have been graded and sewerage disposal systems will be installed.

Mexia Citizens Go To Cleburne To Sell Dodges

Mexia relatives and friends of Messrs R. P. Forrest and J. W. Lindsey have heard from them to the effect that they are now operating their new Dodge agency at Cleburne, to which point, they and their families have recently moved.

R. P. Forrest, better known as Porter Bob Forrest, is a Mexia product, a young business man and gentleman most highly esteemed by the citizenship of the community in which he was reared. Until a few months ago, he was engaged in the grocery business here under the firm name of Wilson and Forrest. He has a host of relatives here also, prominently identified, as was he, with business, social, community and church life.

Mr. Lindsey had lived here for more than two years, where he engaged in selling Dodge automobiles and pleasing the public, at the Dodge Brothers distributing concern, one of the largest in the state, located at the corner of Sherman and Carthage streets.

He won many friends while here, was zealous and loyal citizen, identified with civic club work, church life and all other forces for community uplift and progress.

No more splendid young men can be found in the business circles of any place than these who have formed a partnership and now are engaged in the distribution of Dodge automobiles in three counties of Texas, with Cleburne as headquarters. Their firm

No Longer Dread

No better news could be given people who suffer the embarrassment and disappointments these skin disorders subject them to than the announcement made by the world's best known skin specialist that a few years after the universal use of Black and White Ointment recently perfected will show a positive decline in such skin diseases as pimples, blotches, eczema, rash, tetter, breathing out, etc.

This prediction is already coming true, judging from the tremendous demand for this Black and White Ointment. It is already selling at the unprecedented rate of nearly two million packages a year, and dealers everywhere are enthusiastically recommending it to their friends and customers. It is economically priced, in liberal packages. The 50c size contains three times as much as the 25c size.—(Adv.)

name is Forrest and Lindsey. They have the agency for the counties of Johnson, in which Cleburne is located, Sovervell and Hood. Thus they have gone to a splendid city and are now covering a territory of great promise in their respective line, as well as in other fields of development and possibilities.

They state that they regret very much that their interests have called them from Mexia, a thriving city in which they express great faith. They appreciate the friends they have here, the favors extended in the past and the associations which were so congenial while here. At the same time, they are elated with their new environment, happy to find so much hospitality on every hand at Cleburne, pleased immeasurably at the fine spirit of co-operation and progress which greeted them there, and it is certain that they will not be long in joining in the duties of citizenship in their new home community.

Mr. Lindsey and family, his wife and their five children, moved several days ago to Cleburne. Mr. For-rest's family will join him in a short while. Mrs. Forrest and the baby are remaining for a while with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Theo. Klugg of the Commercial Hotel.

Cleburne is indeed fortunate in winning these gentlemen and their splendid families.

Firpo's Retirement From Ring Unlikely

By HENRY L. FARRELL (United Press Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, March 20.—Retirement of Luis Angel Firpo from the ring at a time when he can command a half million dollars by walking into the ring a couple of times, is too absurd to consider.

The South American champion is the greatest attraction in the ring today. Firpo will draw a crowd with any first class heavyweight in the country and with the possible exception of a Dempsey-Wills contest he would outdraw the champion.

Jack Kearns, manager of Dempsey, expressed general sentiment of the fans here when he said Firpo has no more intention of retiring than Dempsey had of becoming a chorus girl.

It was considered certain here that Firpo allowed it to be made public that he was going to retire just to stir up publicity which threatened to turn to Quintin Romero, the Chilean champion who is to arrive here in a few weeks.

Tex Rickard has said that he was going to build up Romero for his foreign card this summer.

WASHINGTON, March 19.—United States government has instructed diplomatic and consular representatives in Germany to aid whenever possible American Legion representatives who have gone to Germany to get Grover Cleveland Bergdoll, draft dodger, it was learned at the State Department.

News Butch Says Mexicans Best Buyers on Trains

Your "news butch" is generally a keen observer of business methods as well as a judge of the assorted humanity that travels on Texas Railways. His observations are based on economic conditions that affect his trade just as much as they affect the business of the shop keeper.

"They're buying better in east and central Texas than they are in some sections of West Texas," said the "butch" on the H. & T. C. train to Mexia the other night. "That's because times haven't been so good the cattlemen. The passengers on trains in this part of the state have more money to spend and they're good customers."

Labor Ties Up With State Fair

DALLAS, Texas, March 20.—Charges that the Texas State Fair has been "unfair" to union labor have been made by the Dallas labor Council.

According to John W. Boyd, president, the local labor council has placed the Texas State Fair on the "unfair" list. Musicians, stage employees, and motion picture operators have been refused contracts for the fair this fall.

Managers of the fair have countered by arranging to have U. S. Marine bands to furnish music for the fall festival. Protest against employment of marines was forwarded to Texas congressmen and the secretary of the navy at Washington.

On or before April the first, the County Tax Collector will furnish to the Limestone County Election Board, composed of County Judge Fountain Kirby, County Clerk J. L. Day and Sheriff Whit Popejoy, a certified list of citizens of each precinct who have paid their poll taxes in this county, or who have obtained their exemptions qualifying them as voters. The poll tax payments this year are thought to be heavier than on any previous occasion and within the next few months much interest is expected to be shown in the elections of the current year.

Mrs. John Kennedy, wife of Commissioner Kennedy, has recently received word of the death of her brother in West Texas, whom she visited recently. The entire community extends the hand of sympathy to her in her bereavement and loss in the death of one of her kinsmen who has been called away.

Judge and Mrs. W. M. White, who have been in Dallas for a few days, have returned to their home here.

Replica of King Tut's Tomb and Relics Within It Are To Be Shown at British Empire Exhibition in London

Untold millions of people have wished that they could see the tomb of Tut-ankh-Amen in the Valley of the Kings, Egypt, and all the wonderful relics of an early civilization shrouded in the mists of antiquity. Owing to the distance involved and the dispute between the discoverers and the Egyptian government, this is not an easy accomplishment, but the British Empire Exposition which opens in London April 23 and of which the Prince of Wales is president, has built an exact reproduction of the tomb and the various interesting relics found therein. Thousands of dollars worth of gold has been beaten for the gilding of many of these treasures which are about thirty centuries old. The Exposition will remain open until October. The Canadian Government and the Canadian Pacific Railway will both have large and interesting exhibits, and thousands of people in the United States, born in one of the British Empire, are planning to sail from Montreal, Quebec or New York to see this wonderful $200,000,000 exposition. Many Americans, too, are interested. During the exposition the American Bar Association and other organizations in the United States will hold their annual conventions in London and enjoy what the British say will be the world's greatest exposition to date. As the United States has a great reputation as an exposition builder, the average citizen will be curious to see what the British Empire can do when it gets together to put on a show. According to Richmond Temple, an exposition official, the Midway will be five times as large as any Midway heretofore, the Machinery Building alone will be five times as big as Madison Square Garden, and the Stadium, which will seat 200,000, will be twice the size of the Coliseum, Rome. The Canadian Pacific Pavilion is grouped with the Canadian Government Building with which it harmonizes and at the entrance are an enormous bronze moose and buffalo. In both buildings visitors will find displayed examples of all Canadian natural and manufactured products and impressive agricultural exhibits showing the sources and opportunities of the Dominion. South Africa alone will spend $1,000,000 on its display, and India, Burma, Australia, New Zealand, Malta, the Gold Coast, Siam, Egypt, China and New Guinea will all be represented by interesting exhibits, both human and inanimate.

McAdoo's Victory Overwhelming In State of Georgia

ALTANTA, Ga., March 20.—W. G. McAdoo won a sweeping victory in the Georgia Democratic presidential primary yesterday, practically complete returns today showed.

McAdoo carried 117 counties and his only opponent, Senator Oscar Underwood, of Alabama, won in 32 counties.

On the face of these returns McAdoo will control 312 delegates to the State Democratic convention which nominates delegates to the national convention in New York and Underwood will hold 75 delegates.

Counties that went for McAdoo gave him large majorities in popular vote, some running as high as 5 to 1. Miller Bell, campaign manager for McAdoo, in a statement, declared that the victory was the Nation's answer to "Republican attempts to involve the good name of McAdoo in the Teapot Dome scandal." He predicted that the result in Georgia heralded a sweep of the South for McAdoo.

Source of Stock Sold By Sinclair Sought by Prober

WASHINGTON, March 20.—The Senate oil committee sought the source of the Sinclair oil stock which Attorney General Daugherty got in 1922 after it was revealed that Daugherty's first transaction was the sale of Sinclair stock. The records undisclosed when or where about it, the committee was informed by Lewis Bond, Federal Trade Commission accountant. The committee is seeking to trace the story that Daugherty and Will Hays, then chairman of the republican national committee, were given 75,000 shares of Sinclair stock to help pay the million deficit of the party's 1920 campaign fund.

Stanley Ketchel Proves Exception To Rule of Ring

By HENRY L. FARRELL.

(Copyright, 1924, by the author.) NEW YORK, March 20.—A superintendent of a ring says a center once knocked down can never return the compliment toppling the one who laid him low.

Stanley Ketchel proved the exception when he knocked out Billy Papke, the Ketchel was in more ways than one exceptional.

Also Gold-train, a pleasant little first son who educated in the ways of the ring, Willie Lewis, the young middle weight, will try to beat the one who once fought in Madison Square Garden.

Gold-train was recognized as the best middleweight champion for a while by the New York Commission and the fight he camp and the prize of "Little Lion on the West Side."

Gold-train was stopped in 11 rounds by Lynch, the first time they met about three years ago.

Gold-train could be better than he is, because he is a careful boy and a fighter, he is not a fighter, he is a good fighter and does not follow any particular style.

The Boxing Commission has been keeping a close eye on Lynch. The last time he was in Madison Square against Joe Burman of Chicago, the champ "fell over his pet dog," and dislocated his shoulder.

Apparently he did not know that Burman was way out of shape and he found out he had made an awful mistake when Gold-train went in as a substitute on 21 hours' notice and beat Burman.

The Commission has warned Lynch to keep his dogs tied up and to be careful on the street crossings.

TEX RICKARD ADMITS VIOLATION OF FILM LAW

District Governor Of Rotary International Here

Anniversary Shoot Friday Arouses Much Interest

Says He Went Out To Get His Money Back

WASHINGTON, March 20.—Tex Rickard, New York fight promoter, told the Senate Daugherty committee that he "went out to get his money back" on Dempsey-Carpentier fight films by showing them wherever possible, though he knew he was violating the law. Rickard made this decision, he said after he had been fined $1000 for showing the pictures in New York to disabled soldiers. He told the committee that Jap Muma promised to get a law passed in Washington making it legal to show fight films anywhere, but that Muma never said he had influence in the capitol which would make it safe to exhibit the films in defiance of law. He said that after they "got by" so easily in New York he concluded that he could do the same elsewhere.

WASHINGTON, March 20.—Tex Rickard, fight promoter, today faces the "toughest proposition" of his picturesque career—a Senate investigating committee.

"Tex" has faced the muzzle of a bad man's gun many times in the wild and woolly days of the West and rip-roaring nights in the Klondike without flinching, but he admitted today that he felt "a little funny about this thing."

If Senator Wheeler, Montana, chief "prosecutor" of Attorney General Daugherty, has recovered sufficiently from a cold which laid him up yesterday, Rickard will take the stand to tell what he knows about illegal showing of the Dempsey-Carpentier fight films.

Sinclair's Help To Republicans Next Considered

By PAUL R. MALLON
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
WASHINGTON, March 20.—A story that Sinclair Oil money paid off part of a $8,000,000 deficit of the Republican party, resulting from the 1920 campaign, will be sifted by the Senate oil committee as it continues its investigation of the alleged mixing of oil and politics.

Will H. Hays, former head of the Republican National Committee, and now "czar" of the movies, will face the committee Saturday to tell whether he got 75,000 shares of oil stock or any Liberty bonds from Sinclair, to help wipe out the 1920 party deficit. Hays was subpoenaed after the story was told to the committee in private.

G. D. Wahlberg, a former Sinclair employee, one of those whose testimony first opened the secrets of the oil scandal, was to go on the stand today to tell what he knows about this newest sensation.

Wahlberg in his previous testimony mentioned turning over some stocks or bonds to a "Mr. Hays," who was not then identified.

Committee investigators at the time thought Wahlberg referred to an employee in Sinclair's New York office, where Wahlberg was private secretary. Subsequent developments, however, have led to the opinion that Wahlberg might have referred to Will Hays.

Hon. Frank Bolton, until recently a member of the law firm of Stubbs, Walters and Bolton, has established his offices in the Mexia Drug Company's building, in the rooms occupied by Warren Dale, now with a Houston law firm which he represents in Dallas.

She met in the North, for she already has clashed with the St. Petersburg, Fla., Fire Commission and Ministerial Association having twice defied them when they tried to prevent her holding a revival there in an open tent.

Delivers Address Before Mexia Club On Practical Points To Be Remembered

Lester W. Dawley, of Paris, District Governor of Rotary International, was the chief speaker at the Rotary Club at noon today. He gave the large gathering of enthusiastic members, guests and visitors from other clubs, a practical address on the fundamental principles of Rotary International. Addressing the baby club of the district, he pointed out that Mexia Rotarians were face to face with opportunity, the like of which only live clubs in places of this size confront. His suggestions as to the proper programs for a club of the age of the one here, too, were appreciated and will no doubt be followed religiously by committees in charge of future programs, as those who listened were impressed with their practicability and propriety here, where leaders have been somewhat at sea as to just the sort of programs they should conduct. He stressed the importance of a systematic study of the six objects of Rotary, classification and service talks and open and friendly discussions pertaining to matters involving community welfare and progress.

He opened with the statement that his voice was hardly as strong as Mr. Beene's—the latter having just participated in a number of quartet selections—but that he would use it to the best of his ability in bringing the message which he had for Mexia Rotarians.

He said that there are now 80 clubs in the district and that the average number in a district was 39.

The first duty of Rotary is to sell itself to the membership, just as an article has first to be sold to a merchant before he can offer it for resale. It, therefore, behooves Rotarians to get acquainted with their constitution and to familiarize themselves with its objects, purposes and proposed services.

This led the speaker to a brief review of some of the "Don'ts" and "Weaknesses" demanding attention.

It was the opinion of Governor Dawley that the club offered a splendid opportunity for the membership to cultivate a wider and closer friendship with others. He urged that to make the most of this, members should rotate from one part of the table to another at the respective meetings and not sit by the same fellows week after week. Also, he pointed out that a mark of courtesy and respect should be shown all visitors by not becoming immersed in one's own affairs, concerning which the visitor seated next to those enjoying the conversation knew nothing.

Don't forget the angle of others in the informal conversation and pleasures prior to the arranged program. He cited that he had been to clubs where this rule was not individually adhered to, making him ill at ease, uncomfortable and lessened the value of the hour to him, an experience he was sure which was common to everyone present, at some place or another, as they had been guests at other clubs.

Don't form Cliques while in your meetings, he urged, while all Rotarians looked toward the end of the tables where what is known as "The Routh Element" is seated each week.

He urged that matters of community welfare should be considered and discussed at meetings, sentiment moulded for the adoption of the better viewpoint, but that many such matters should not be carried to their conclusion, where a Chamber of Commerce should function. He stressed the importance of each member being an active member of the Chamber of Commerce out of the Rotary Club was his injunction at this point.

Don't bring politics into the club,

he urged. Read the constitution of the club and you will see that politics are banned, which may be followed even while considering matters of civic good and welfare.

In pointing out weaknesses which he had observed in some clubs, he said that the rules as to classification were not adhered to rigidly enough; that there are three sixty per cent rules in Rotary and classification involves one of them. He said that the rule should not be so bent as to take a man into the organization who could not represent, in true Rotary spirit, the classification under which received and listed.

Governor Dawley next pointed out that many clubs are paralyzed with poor officers, men who have been elected to responsibility because they were good men and typical of a class whom the members love to honor. Officers, he said, should be elected because of their experience and training which fitted them for the highest type of Rotary service, thus enabling the club to be a service institution in the community. Officers should not be chosen merely on their attendance records, however, all Rotarians should maintain the price of Rotary Membership which is attendance. Many faithful attendants upon Rotary meetings are not acquainted with its principles and objects. They were termed Eating Rotarians to whom true Rotary had not been sold, and, therefore, who could not sell it to the community or to the membership.

The third weakness he mentioned was that of laxity in attendance. He urged that a man, however honorable and good, if he was unable to pay the price of attendance demanded, he should not be taken into the club. In the end, such members would be dead weight and crowd out someone who could attend and make a better Rotarian. He urged that attendance records be kept and that the directors should drop members who fall below the dead line in attendance.

The fourth and last weakness he called attention to was that of tendency in some parts to lower the qualifications of membership. This, he said, would ultimately prove disastrous by lowering the ideals of the membership and by creating a bad impression upon the community to be served by the club. The man on the outside will gain and retain that impression of Rotary which the members win for it. He stated that there were other organizations with ideals just as high as Rotary, but none higher and that there were good men in other clubs and outside of Rotary, and commended them for the work they proposed in whatever organizations they were allied with. This latter, he pointed out, was due to the rigid regard for classification, which permitted only one man in each line of business to be a member of the club in the city represented.

The speaker closed with an urgent appeal for as many Mexia Rotarians as possible to attend the district meeting soon to be held in Wichita Falls, remarking "I will meet you at the District Convention," as he concluded.

The meeting was led by Rotarian J. G. (Mc) McIntosh, who introduced President Albert Berry, to introduce the speaker.

The first part of the program was given over to announcements by Secretary Ben Stollenwerk and music. The meeting opened with "What's the Matter with Rotary, She's All Right," followed by "America," in which all joined heartily. The Rotary quartet composed of Messrs. Jeffers, Bell, Beene and Samford, presented two numbers which were greeted by generous applause. Hardy Eubanks also made a statement regard-

Coolidge Favors Speeding Up Of Congress at Once

By A. L. BRADFORD
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
WASHINGTON, March 20.—President Coolidge today took steps to speed up Congress and get it out of the way before the political convulsions in June.

With his administration in the "home stretch," the President wishes Congress would do as Senator Borah suggested—stop being a grand jury and get down to legislating. To this end Mr. Coolidge has planned conferences at the White House with House and Senate leaders to map out a definite legislative program and a time for adjournment.

The first of these conferences will include House members.

Invitations to the conference at the White House are going out to members of the steering committee of the House. The conference to map out the remainder of the legislative program, may be held at a White House dinner.

By April 15, or 20, Mr. Coolidge believes the House will have passed all the appropriation bills and the immigration bill. Then will remain only agriculture and possibly railroad legislation, but it is regarded as doubtful whether the latter question will be acted on.

After its program has been disposed of, members of the House probably will become restive and desirous of returning home for their campaigns, President Coolidge believes.

A series of three-day recesses for the House will be suggested, while the Senate, which has passed practically no legislation, will be urged to get down to business.

CORSICANA, Texas, March 19.—David Harper, six-year-old son of G. W. Harper, prominent merchant of Rice, will be buried at Chatfield today. The boy was killed when his father's delivery car crashed into an interurban at a crossing here. Harper was seriously injured and is being treated at a local hospital. Graves Crawford, 2, also in the crash, suffered a fractured skull and may die.

FLAT RATE FOR GAS DOES NOT BEAR EVENLY

Gas companies generally are reframing their rates so that the cost of the service shall be distributed equitably among the customers. Merely making a charge of so much a thousand cubic feet for gas does not do this. This is because there is a certain cost attached to being ready to serve that accrues without regard to whether the customer uses any gas at all. Items in this cost are the investment in plant facilities and meters for such customers' use; in bookkeeping and billing.

The result of the company losing money on some customers is of course, that other customers make up the losses. For the gas company is entitled to earn a reasonable return on the value of property kept in good condition and can not continue in business unless it does so. It is important to have good equipment.

Some large distributors of gas make their rates to include the elements of demand, which is a factor in determining the size of the plant and consequently the amount of the investment; the service, which includes the items mentioned; and the gas itself which, after all, is only a part of the cost of supplying this service.

Other companies have used but two items in framing rates—the cost of being ready to serve, and the cost of the gas.

Regulating bodies generally have approved a rate that considers these separate items. It is fair to all users of gas and places each customer on a basis of equality with the others.

MEXIA WANTS A CHARTER

Mexia citizens have again spoken through the polls. They have said that they want a charter for this municipality to operate under, lifting it from the village form of government, which has worked to the injury and injustice of the community during the period of unusual growth, following the discovery of oil.

Coincident with the discovery of petroleum, had Mexia adopted a right sort of charter, it would have rendered a real service, solving many problems, lifting heavy burdens from the shoulders of loyal public servants, who performed the duties of City Commissioners, devoting hours of the precious time daily to the interests of Mexia, regardless of the loss to which they were personally subjected and often finding themselves helpless on account of the limited form of government operative here.

It is not too late to correct the defect. Only 122 votes were cast Tuesday in opposition to the contemplated change. 505 voted for a change. The latter did not all vote for the fifteen names printed on the ballot, but did vote for fifteen citizens to frame the charter. The citizens whose names were printed on the ballots, however, were duly authorized to act as the commission, to hold open conferences with citizens interested in a charter, to study charters used by other progressive places of the population of Mexia, to discuss and defend in the newspaper, in mass meetings and otherwise, the document which they finally indorse.

Not all of the 505 who favored the writing of a charter are united as to their beliefs as to the kind of a charter which Mexia should have. In fact, you could not gather that many people together on any subject, involving so many matters as does a city charter, who would all be agreed on every item. Common sense, truth, reason and love for the home community should find a place in the consideration of the charter and likewise should prevail when presented for acceptance or rejection at the polls at a later date.

In the discussions naturally to be expected, these principles as well as principles of fairness and friendship should dominate every line written and every word uttered. There should be no mud slinging, no insinuations as to the honesty and integrity of the ones imposed with the burdensome task, but high privilege of drafting an instrument, as important to the life and progress of Mexia, as any similar document ever before adopted by any other municipality.

Mexia is too small; we have to rub shoulders together too often; our interests are too closely identified for any of us to lose any friends over the subject. Let's be frank about what we think is for the best interests of the majority, but let's retain our friends and not say something which we will later regret, which we cannot back up with facts in any court in the world, as well as in the court of public opinion. The purpose of all government is to harmonize law-loving and law-respecting citizens, protecting them from the chaos of anarchy and division which point unerringly to decay, degradation and destruction.

While here, he expressed admiration because of the smoothly working and efficient force of The News mechanical department and also complimented in high terms the advertising make up and entire contents of the paper published. It was his opinion that the News would do credit to a city double the population of Mexia and mentioned several features which it carries as the very best that he has seen in any paper anywhere. The features which he especially mentioned were "Slyboots" column, "Citizenship Thought for the Day," "Sportlights" and "Patterson's Column." He stated that he reads these wherever he finds The Mexia Daily News.

He expressed much surprise at finding The News Publishing Company a plant capable of handling the business of a town of 50,000 population.

DALLAS.—A twelve-year old boy wanted by George Preston, county juvenile officer, for a number of petty thefts, led the officer up a tree in a wild chase here. He was finally captured when he dropped from the limb into the Trinity river. Preston rowed into the water with a boat and fished the boy out.

A MYSTERY OIL WELL

(By Ben B. Hunt)
When farmers in a neighborhood Give leases on their land In order for a thorough test In searching for a sand, They have a perfect right to know Just what a well contains— For they have fortunes, too, at stake, Entailing loss or gains.

They have an interest in a well Their leases help'd procure; The law implies a covenant This interest to assure. No lessee has a right to say: "Vamoose. Git out! Bow wow! "For you have signed the dotted line And we don't need you now!"

This "mystery" stuff they seek to pull —What right have they to do it? If there is any trace of oil You have a right to view it. A "mystery" well is often dry Without a chance to gush, And most reports about its hopes Are seldom more than "slush."

I like to see a thorough sport, When I go on a lark— Not one who tries to stack his cards And keep me in the dark. And when a city wants to see A well come gushing in, A thorough sport should let them know What chance they have to win.

CITIZENSHIP Thought for the Day

By A. Garland Adair

INVETERATE ANTI-PAATHIES AND ATTACHMENTS ARE MENACES TO THE NATION

George Washington, the Father of his Country, not generally termed a Prophet, was none the less one, in his philosophies of government. The times are such that the following words by him are such as to command themselves to all peoples of all the earth:

"Nothing is more essential than that permanent, inveterate antipathies against particular nations and passionate attachments for others should be excluded, and that, in place of them, just and amicable feelings toward all should be cultivated. The notion which indulges toward another a habitual hatred or a habitual fondness is in some degree a slave. It is a slave to its animosity or to its affection, either of which is sufficient to lead it astray from its duty and its interest. Antipathy in one nation against another disposes each more readily to offer insult and injury, to lay hold of slight causes of umbrage, and to be haughty and intractable when accidental or trifling occasions of dispute occur. Hence, frequent collisions; obstinate, evenminded and bloody contests. Against the insidious wiles of foreign influence (I conjure you to believe me, fellow citizens,) the jealousy of a free people ought to be constantly awake, since history and experience prove that foreign influence is one of the most baneful foes of republican government. But jealousy, to be useful, must be impartial."

And many a woman's greatness is due to the smallness of her husband.

FORT WORTH.—The annual convention of the Texas Independent Telephone Association in session here this week is devoting the major part of its time to service problems and the development of plans for better service.

HOW DOCTORS TREAT COLDS AND THE FLU

First Step in Treatment Is the Purified and Refined Calomel Tablets That Are Nauseless, Safe and Sure.

Doctors have found by experience that no medicine for colds, coughs, sore throat, and influenza can be depended upon for full effectiveness until the liver is made thoroughly active. That is why the first step in the treatment is the nauseless calomel tablets called Calotabs, which are free from the sickening and weakening effects of the old style calomel. Doctors also point out the fact that an active liver may go a long way towards preventing influenza and colds and is one of the most important factors in enabling the patient to successfully withstand an attack and ward off pneumonia.

One or two Calotabs at bed time, with a swallow of water—that's all. No salts, no nausea nor the slightest interference with your eating, pleasure or work. Next morning your cold has vanished, your liver is active, your system is purified, and you are feeling fine, with a hearty appetite for breakfast. Genuine Calotabs are sold only in original sealed packages, price thirty-five cents for the large, family package; ten cents for the small, vest-pocket size. —(Adv.)

Texas Has Lots Sculptors Clay

SAN SABA, Texas, March 20.—Texas may soon supply the clay for some of the most noted sculptors of the world.

Prospectors digging near here recently struck a vein of clay at a depth of 20 feet. The mud was sent to the College of Industrial Arts at Denton and after a test was found to be without a trace of grit and to mold and fire excellently.

A request has been received from the New York studio of Lempeo Coppini for samples of the clay to test for his work.

W. H. Wood, of Waco, was a Mexia visitor Monday.

Going To Keep Hold on Prisoners

ORANGE, Texas, March 20.—Orange county is to have one of the most modern jail buildings in the south. The structure, three stories high and break-proof thruout, is now in course of construction and should be finished by June 1.

The building will be steamheated and the cells will be constructed of saw-proof steel. A large basement will be the home of Jailer Carey Woods and his family. Eighty prisoners will be the capacity of the new jail.

Seventy-five cents is the price of a Saturday haircut in Oil City, Pa., under a new scale adopted by the union.

Our idea of a wise man is one who never argues with a woman.

Represented Calomel Is Better than the Old-Time Sickening Kind

It is gentle, imported English Calomel, combined with Pepsin and other helpful ingredients. It is mild but certain, causing no harshness or unpleasantness and will absolutely relieve indigestion, biliousness, bad colds, constipation and sick headaches. And best of all it does it at once—quickly and pleasantly. Take one small tablet at bed-time and you will get up hungry and feeling fine. Recommended by

Dr. Maxwell Has Most Interesting Visit to Clinics

Dr. G. C. Maxwell upon his return from Rochester, Minnesota, and Chicago, relates some very interesting experiences while in the famous Mayo Clinic at Rochester and also in the Cook County Hospital at Chicago. He studied for the past five weeks in the institutions there and witnessed many operations in the institutions. At the Mayo Clinic he states that there were twelve operating rooms. Visiting physicians and surgeons are permitted to gather in a large auditorium, used also for lectures, to which visitors are admitted free, in which a large electrical board indicates where certain operations are in progress. To these the doctors may repair and watch the work of the experts. The patients are not disturbed at all, he says, as they are not aware that any eyes are upon them except those doing the work, as the visitors are seated where they will not interfere whatever and at the same time gain the valuable instruction to be derived from watching operations, which include every kind known to surgery. He also states the interesting fact that most operations are to remove goiters, as a large per cent of the people of Minnesota are said to be troubled with this menace to their health. It is occasioned, scientists have recently determined on account of lack of sufficient proportion of iodine in the water. One young lady from a class in the University of Minnesota stated that in her class, a few years ago, an examination of her classmates indicated that 90 per cent of them were infected with goiter. Following the discovery by scientists, the water is being treated and improvement in the past two years has been most pronounced. Dr. Maxwell states that the trouble, from lack of iodine in water, is not so noticeable in the South, and since the right proportion prevails in most instances, Southerners are not troubled with goiter like the people North of the Mason and Dixon line. The Cook County hospital, he states, has 3500 beds, and about 2,000 of them were occupied while he was there. His visit there was equally as helpful as that which carried him to Rochester. Dr. Maxwell was accompanied by his wife and they had a most enjoyable visit, combining business with pleasure as they did. DALLAS.—The first installment of new street cars for this city has arrived and the cars are in service. Thirty of the most modern cars will be added to the service during the next few days.

CHICAGO, March 19.—Pleas of not guilty to indictments charging bribery were entered in the federal court by Colonel Charles Forbes, former head of the Veterans Bureau, and John W. Thompson, contractor. CHILDRESS.—Negotiations are under way here for construction of a line to supply natural gas from the Shamrock field to this city.

UNITED PRESS DAILY LETTER

CHICAGO.—Mable Normand has been snubbed by the Illinois Federation of Women's Clubs. Mable stopped over in Chicago to tell her story of the shooting of Courtland Dines at the now famous New Year's party. The Illinois clubwomen had asked her to address them. When she did appear however, Mrs. George Palmer, president of the Illinois federation of women's clubs, said she could not address her organization. "I am of the opinion that the majority of Illinois club women do not wish to see Miss Normand or her films," Mrs. Palmer said.

JOPLIN, Missouri.—Mrs. Zoe Wilkins, slain Kansas City doctor, was known here for her generosity and club life. Local orchestra leaders tell how when dining at the hotel she would send a $50 bill to the conductor and ask that her favorite selection—"Tales of Hoffman" be played.

DALLAS.—S. B. Stone of Roxton, Texas, came to Dallas for a visit, with $11 in his pockets. Today he is at the Emergency hospital, broke, and nursing a severe blackjack wound in the head.

LONDON.—Women of today are "imitating the courtesans" according to Lady Frances Balfour. In a speech here she said among other things: "The modern women's face is a ghastly expanse of powder; her lips are reddened into a caricature with out human resemblance; she rocks of strong scents that make one long for a breath of God's sweet air."

KANSAS CITY.—The Kansas City, Mexico and Orient railroad will be sold under orders of the federal court at Wichita, Kansas, March 27. According to W. T. Kemper, receiver, the property will bring near $10,000,000.

DALLAS.—James H. Thompson has filed suit here against the Trinity Portland Cement company demanding $25,000 damages which he alleges resulted from blasting the company did near his home. In his petition Thompson claims the plaintiffs wrecked his home for which he wants $5,000. For personal damages, he asks $20,000, claiming the blasting endangered the lives of his family.

New Treatment For Varicose or Swollen Veins

Swollen veins are dangerous and often burst. Sufferers are advised to get a two-ounce, original bottle of Emerald Oil (full strength), at any pharmacist and start to reduce the veins and bunched at once. Physicians recommend Emerald Oil; it is used in hospital practice and a small bottle will last a long time, because it is very concentrated, and a little goes a long way. Apply night and morning with a soft brush as directed until the swelling is reduced to normal. It is guaranteed. So marvelously powerful is Emerald Oil that enlarged glands, wens, and even goitre disappear when used steadily.—(Adv.)

Influent in their tax payments will be sued under plans being prepared by the attorney general. Under the law weekly remittances are required. A majority of the counties are said to be delinquent.

REAL COMEDY IN NEW GRIFFITH MOVIE

D. W. Griffith, famous photoplay producer, has made another player famous.

This new hero of the screen wizard's legion of admirers is Porter Strong, who plays the terrified dandy in "One Exciting Night," Griffith's novel mystery drama hit, a United Artists release starting today at the National Theatre.

In all these thrilling crime plays there must be some comic relief, to offset the shivers. Sometimes this comedy is dumped in with rhyme or reason, but in the case of Romeo Washington, the colored gentleman in "One Exciting Night," it is the perfectly natural outgrowth of a very susceptible man's fears. Romeo typifies the harrowing effect of awful mystery. The audience feels the same effect, but when it sees the whites of Romeo's eyes rolling around in abject alarm it can't help laughing. That is

Piles Are Absorbed Never To Return

After years of patient, painstaking effort on the part of a well-known doctor, a prescription has been found that will actually heal Piles and absorb them never to return.

No man or woman need suffer another hour with any discomfort, pain or soreness arising from rectal troubles.—Piles—now that this wonderful prescription known as MOAVA can be obtained for a moderate price at any first class drug store on the money back if dissatisfied plan.

You'll be amazed to see how quickly it acts. Blessed relief often comes in an hour; even in cases of long standing with profuse bleeding, really wonderful results have been accomplished.

Simply ask your druggist for a small box of MOAVA SUPPOSITORIES, being careful to follow the simple directions that come in each box.—(Adv.)

legitimate comedy, as might be expected from Mr. Griffith.

Porter Strong, whose impersonation of the excitable Ethiopian is certain to make him famous and also make the new Griffith picture a great popular success, is a well-known blackface comedian from the Pacific coast. He got his training in the famous Kolb-Dill company, which is a favorite organization beyond the Rockies; and it was out there that Griffith found his several years ago and brought him East, just to have him on hand for some such role as he plays in "One Exciting Night."

COMMERCE.—Extensive improvements of the local telephone plant here involved construction of much cable line and installation of a new switch board.

RHEUMATIC NEURITIS Leaves You Forever

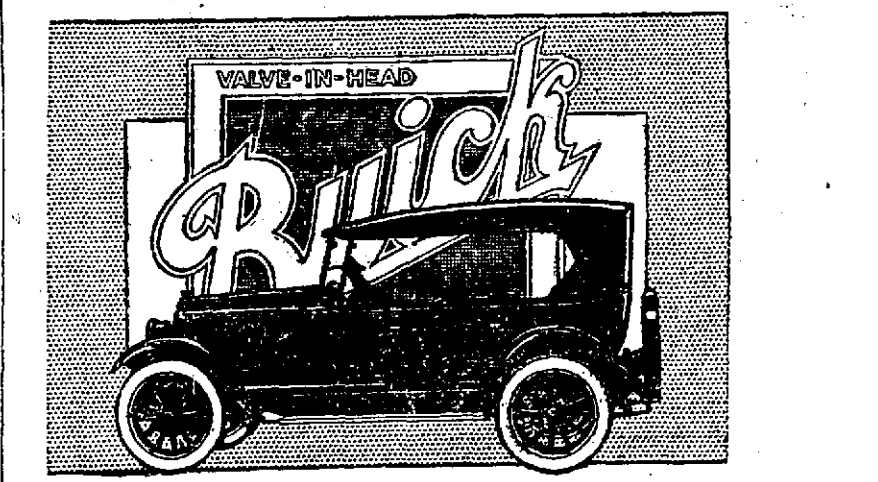

Every druggist in this county is authorized to say to every rheumatic sufferer that if a full pint bottle of Allenru, the sure conqueror of rheumatism, does not show the way to stop the agony, reduce swollen joints and do away with even the slightest twinge of rheumatic pain, he will gladly return your money without comment.

Allenru has been tried and tested for years, and really marvelous results have been accomplished in the most severe cases where the suffering and agony was intense and pitiable and where the patient was helpless.

Mr. James H. Allen, the discoverer of Allenru, who for many years suffered the torments of acute rheumatism, desires all sufferers to know that he does not want a cent of anyone's money unless Allenru decisively conquers this worst of all diseases, and he has instructed druggists to guarantee it as above in every instance. All druggists can supply you.—(Adv.)

ATLANTA, March 19.—Georgia went to the polls today to express a preference for democratic presidential candidates. McAdoo and Underwood are the only candidates.

CLARENDON.—Construction of an electric transmission line between this city and Memphis will begin about May 1. New line and substations will cost about $150,000.

I Was No Beauty As a girl—till these ways made me so By Edna Wallace Hopper

I was not a natural beauty. Many a girl had finer hair, figure and complexion. But my mother went with me to search the world for the greatest beauty helps in existence. Those helps made me a famous beauty, and kept that beauty to my grand old age.

I have seen those helps bring multiplied beauty to countless young girls since then. They have brought to many friends of mine decades of added youth. That is why I now am helping millions to obtain them.

The Supreme Help Clay is the greatest beauty that ever came to women. Famous beauties have for ages used it. Now in every circle you see its marvelous effects.

It purges the skin of all that mure or clogs it. It removes the old skin, leaving one a baby-like complexion. It firms the skin, combats all lines and wrinkles, reduces enlarged pores. No girl or woman who knows its results will ever go without it.

France gave to me a super-clay, white, refined and dainty. It is based on 20 years of scientific study. No crude and muddy clays can bring comparable results. I call it my White Youth Clay. To that I owe my youthful bloom, which countless women envy. Now that White Youth Clay is at your call. The price is 50 cents and $1.

Matchless Creams My Youth Cream is the greatest in cream science has perfected. It contains both lemon and strawberry, two all the best that science knows, to foster the skin texture. I use it after my clay. Also as a night cream. Also daytimes as a

BIG LAKE, Texas, March 20.—With many of the wells in this section now drilling below the 2000 foot depth, numerous completions are looked for within the next thirty days. The pay sand in this field is found at approximately 3050 feet.

The drilling race between the Rotary and Cable tools in this section is now on in earnest, with the No. 10 well of the Big Lake Company down below the 400 foot depth. This well is being put down by the Wade Drilling Company of Corsicana, with a large sized rotary rig and should it be successful, several more heavy rigs of this type will be moved in.

Work on a number of the cable tool wells has been seriously hampered due to the necessity of shipping tools to Ranger and Eastland for all repairs. This will, however, be overcome it is expected within the next few weeks, as two well known machine shops are making preparations to locate here.

The city will soon be provided with an electric light and water plant, arrangements having been made by the City Council and Frank Pickrell, Vice President and General Manager of the Texon Oil and Land Company, who will provide these utilities. Survey of the city is now being made by an Engineering firm and work of installation will be started within thirty days.

The streets in this city have been graded and sewerage disposal systems will be installed.

Mexia Citizens Go To Cleburne To Sell Dodges

Mexia relatives and friends of Messrs R. P. Forrest and J. W. Lindsey have heard from them to the effect that they are now operating their new Dodge agency at Cleburne, to which point, they and their families have recently moved.

R. P. Forrest, better known as Porter Bob Forrest, is a Mexia product, a young business man and gentleman most highly esteemed by the citizenship of the community in which he was reared. Until a few months ago, he was engaged in the grocery business here under the firm name of Wilson and Forrest. He has a host of relatives here also, prominently identified, as was he, with business, social, community and church life.

Mr. Lindsey had lived here for more than two years, where he engaged in selling Dodge automobiles and pleasing the public, at the Dodge Brothers distributing concern, one of the largest in the state, located at the corner of Sherman and Carthage streets.

He won many friends while here, was zealous and loyal citizen, identified with civic club work, church life and all other forces for community uplift and progress.

No more splendid young men can be found in the business circles of any place than these who have formed a partnership and now are engaged in the distribution of Dodge automobiles in three counties of Texas, with Cleburne as headquarters. Their firm

name is Forrest and Lindsey. They have the agency for the counties of Johnson, in which Cleburne is located, Soverville and Hood. Thus they have gone to a splendid city and are now covering a territory of great promise in their respective line, as well as in other fields of development and possibilities.

They state that they regret very much that their interests have called them from Mexia, a thriving city in which they express great faith. They appreciate the friends they have here, the favors extended in the past and the associations which were so congenial while here. At the same time, they are elated with their new environment, happy to find so much hospitality on every hand at Cleburne, pleased immeasurably at the fine spirit of co-operation and progress which greeted them there, and it is certain that they will not be long in joining in the duties of citizenship in their new home community.

Mr. Lindsey and family, his wife and their five children, moved several days ago to Cleburne. Mr. For-rest's family will join him in a short while. Mrs. Forrest and the baby are remaining for a while with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Theo. Klugg of the Commercial Hotel.

Cleburne is indeed fortunate in winning these gentlemen and their splendid families.

Firpo's Retirement From Ring Unlikely

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, March 20.—Retirement of Luis Angel Firpo from the ring at a time when he can command a half million dollars by walking into the ring a couple of times, is too absurd to consider.

The South American champion is the greatest attraction in the ring today. Firpo will draw a crowd with any first class heavyweight in the country and with the possible exception of a Dempsey-Wills contest he would outdraw the champion.

Jack Kearns, manager of Dempsey, expressed general sentiment of the fans here when he said Firpo has no more intention of retiring than Dempsey had of becoming a chorus girl.

It was considered certain here that Firpo allowed it to be made public that he was going to retire just to stir up publicity which threatened to turn to Quintin Romero, the Chilean champion who is to arrive here in a few weeks.

Tex Rickard has said that he was going to build up Romero for his foreign card this summer.

News Butch Says Mexicans Best Buyers on Trains

Your "news butch" is generally a keen observer of business methods as well as a judge of the assorted humanity that travels on Texas Railways. His observations are based on economic conditions that affect his trade just as much as they affect the business of the shop keeper.

"They're buying better in east and central Texas than they are in some sections of West Texas," said the "butch" on the H. & T. C. train to Mexia the other night. "That's because times haven't been so good the cattlemen. The passengers on trains in this part of the state have more money to spend and they're good customers."

This particular "butch" had given up a run in West Texas for one in this section because his business is better in Central Texas just now.

Asked about the train vendor's trade, this one made these observations.

Mexicans are about the best spenders on trains.

Negroes patronize the "butch" chiefly after the cotton picking season. They buy mostly peanut candy.

Women are the hardest bargain drivers.

Day runs are preferable to night job because the "butch" has access to Pullman passengers in the daytime.

Children bring many sales to the "butch" by relentless demands on parents.

A day run will bring in anywhere from $5 to $25 or more, depending on the amount of travel, economic conditions and the class of passengers.

A "butch" with the knack of salesmanship will dispose of more goods than one who lacks this trait.

Replica of King Tut's Tomb and Relics Within It Are To Be Shown at British Empire Exhibition in London

Untold millions of people have wished that they could see the tomb of Tut-ankh-Amen in the Valley of the Kings, Egypt, and all the wonderful relics of an early civilization shrouded in the mists of antiquity. Owing to the distance involved and the dispute between the discoverers and the Egyptian government, this is not an easy accomplishment, but the British Empire Exhibition which opens in London April 23 and of which the Prince of Wales is president, has built an exact reproduction of the tomb and the various interesting relics found therein. Thousands of dollars worth of gold has been beaten for the gliding of many of these treasures which are about thirty centuries old. The Exposition will remain open until October.

The Canadian Government and the Canadian Pacific Railway will both have large and interesting exhibits, and thousands of people in the United States, born in one part or another of the British Empire, are planning to sail from Montreal, Quebec or New York to see this wonderful $200,000,000 exposition. Many Americans, too, are interested. During the exposition the American Bar Association and other organizations in the United States will hold their annual conventions in London and enjoy what the British say will be the world's greatest exposition to date. As the United States has a great reputation as an exposition builder, the average citizen will be curious to see what the British Empire can do when it gets together to put on a show. According to Richmond Temple, an exhibition official, the Midway will be five times as large as any Midway heretofore, the Machinery Building alone will be five times as big as Madison Square Garden, and the Stadium, which will seat 200,000, will be twice the size of the Coliseum, Rome.

The Canadian Pacific Pavilion is grouped with the Canadian Government Building with which it harmonizes and at the entrance are an enormous bronze moose and buffalo. In both buildings visitors will find displayed examples of all Canadian natural and manufactured products and impressive agricultural exhibits showing the sources and opportunities of the Dominion.

South Africa alone will spend $1,000,000 on its display, and India, Burma, Australia, New Zealand, Malta, the Gold Coast, Samoa, Fiji, China and New Guinea will all be represented by interesting exhibits, both human and inanimate.

Stanley Ketchel Proves Exception To Rule of Ring

By HENRY L. FARRELL,
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, March 20.—A superstitious axiom of ringdom says a fighter once knocked down can never return the compliment toppling the one who laid him low.

Stanley Ketchel proved the exception when he knocked out Billy Papke, but Ketchel was in more ways than that exceptional.

Abey Goldstein, a pleasant little East Side boy educated in the ways of the ring by Willie Lewis, the great middleweight, will try to beat the rule tomorrow night in Madison Square Garden.

Goldstein, who was recognized as the bantamweight champion for a while by the New York Commission, meets Joe Lynch, the champ and the pride of "Little Erin on the West Side."

Goldstein was stopped in 11 rounds by Lynch the first time they met about three years ago.

Goldstein should be better than he was because he is a careful boy and a strict trainer. Lynch may not be as good as he was because he likes to get around and doesn't follow any particular diet.

The Boxing Commission has been keeping an eye on Lynch. The last time he was to fight in Madison Square against Joe Burman of Chicago, the champ "fell over his pet dog," and dislocated his shoulder.

Apparently he did not know that Burman was way out of shape and he found out he had made an awful mistake when Goldstein went in as a substitute on 24 hours' notice and beat Burman.

The Commission has warned Lynch to keep his dogs tied up and to be careful on the street crossings.

PEKIN, March 19.—The signing of the Russo-China treaty which would re-establish diplomatic relations is delayed indefinitely. It is learned that negotiations were broken off.

McAdoo's Victory Overwhelming In State of Georgia

ALTANTA, Ga., March 20.—W. G. McAdoo won a sweeping victory in the Georgia Democratic presidential primary yesterday, practically complete returns today showed.

McAdoo carried 117 counties and his only opponent, Senator Oscar Underwood, of Alabama, won in 32 counties.

On the face of these returns McAdoo will control 312 delegates to the State Democratic convention which nominates delegates to the national convention in New York and Underwood will hold 76 delegates.

Counties that went for McAdoo gave him large majorities in popular vote, some running as high as 5 to 1. Miller Ball, campaign manager for McAdoo, in a statement, declared that the victory was the Nation's answer to "Republican attempts to involve the good name of McAdoo in the Teapot Dome scandal." He predicted that the result in Georgia heralded a sweep of the South for McAdoo.

OUCH! BACKACHE! RUB LUMBAGO AWAY

When your back is sore and lame or lumbago, sciatica or rheumatism has stiffened up, don't suffer! Get a 35 cent bottle of old, honest St. Jacobs Oil at any drug store, pour a little in your hand and rub it right on your aching back, and the soreness and lameness is gone.

In use for 65 years this soothing, penetrating oil takes the pain right out, and ends the misery. It is absolutely harmless and doesn't burn the skin.—(Adv.)

Source of Stock Sold By Sinclair Sought by Prober

WASHINGTON, March 20.—The Senate oil committee sought the source of the Sinclair oil stock which Attorney General Daugherty got in 1922 after it was revealed that Daugherty's first transaction was the sale of Sinclair stock. The records undisclosed when or where about it, the committee was informed by Lewis Bond, Federal Trade Commission accountant. The committee is seeking to trace the story that Daugherty and Will Hays, then chairman of the republican national committee, were given 75,000 shares of Sinclair stock to help pay the million deficit of the party's 1920 campaign fund.
